COUPLE IN YACHT CASE BOUGHT T. N. T.

SANTA ANA: A finger pointed to the young engaged couple involved in the yacht case here when Ben A. Smith, explosives salesman identified them. He said he had "absolutely every reason" to believe they bought 27 sticks of dynmite from him. A few days later, the girl's wealthy parents died by time-bomb aboard their yacht.

TRUMAN COVERS TELEPHONE, FOOD, AND KRUG IN TALK

WASHINGTON: In press conference yesterday, President Truman said he was investigating the possibility of taking over the telephone industry to avert the threatened Monday strike. He also defended Secretary of Interior Krug against John L. Lewis violent verbal attack yesterday. Truman commented on commodity prices, saying that groceries were too high. Mrs. Truman, he stated, was an excellent shopper but of recent days complained bitterly of high food costs.

THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L.

We note with some surprise that Royce Brier in his S. F. Chronicle column does a little more to confuse Americans in their thinking regarding the President Truman's proposed change in foreign policy under which we would shore up tottering democracies throughout the world beginning with Turkey and Greece..

Overlooked completely in the Brier column is the solid fact that Greece voted overwhelmingly for monarchial government, for the late King George, and that communists, who had the same opportunity to vote as the others, refused to vote for the approximate reason that if they had voted they would have been shown to be a very small minority of the Greek people. The implication of Brier's thinking is that we are on the way to support a strong fascist government, if we follow the president's lead.

As a matter of fact we would be supporting the majority government. It may not be the idealistic democracy that we desire not only for all nations, including our own, but it is the nearest to it that the Greeks can achieve under the post war circumstances, which include much of the war travail tht Greeks suffered.

War begets fascism. If you don't believe it, please remember all the war controls exercised by a central war government in Washington during the war, and the many controls that survived after the battle was over. In Greece war controls are still in effect, apparently as the only bulwark against ravaging communism, or even anarchy.. Probably controls will exist there for a long time.

That the British for survival reasons must withdraw their support from Greece is unfortunate, but we should cast back in our minds to those days when the United States on its way to power, depended on the British navy for not only strong support of its Monroe doctrine, but also benefited from the Pax Britannica which the British navy afforded us around the world. We are now being weaned and the succeeding, as we see it, to the responsibilities the English people for the last century have borne..

Whether our intervention with food and military supplies in Greece and Turkey, will stop the march of communism or result in war with Russia, we do not know, but we feel that if shirk the issue now we shall rue it for generations to come.

As a matter of fact, we have been placed in a spot by the president, who we are assured has only voiced the policy of George Marshall, secretary of state. After all the furor the proposal has aroused in this country and abroad, if we now refuse ot assume the leadership for democracies which the British have abdicated, we shall merit the comtumely which both communism and democracy will heap upon us.

As for oil of the Middle East, which Brier adroitly uses as a dampening argument against intervention in Greece and Turkey, why not boldly admit that our own petoleum rtsources are running out, that we have to look elsewhere for a supply, and in event of another war we shall certainly need an enormous supply in one of the most strategic locations in the world? If there is any good reason why we should retreat from our oil conessions in the Middle East, and surrender them to Russia in due time? We can think of none but we do feel instinctively that if we retreat from the advanced post to which Marshall and Truman have ssigned us in world affairs, it is likely to be our last opportunity to carry the torch of liberty, the ideal of democracy, as conceived by Anglo Sazons. Sooner or later, if we fail now, the recessional will sound. We would have Union Now with a vengeance. It would be a union such as Hitler's, but under the dictatorship of a group of Asiatic tyrants.

4th of July Plans Laid

GRASS VALLEY: The Fourth of July celebration here is going to be a wow! That was obvious from the large scale plans and fast-clicking precision of preliminary planning at Wednesday's regular luncheon meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Three full days of continuous entertainment are planned. William H. Stinson, chairman of the Fourth Committee, outlined events to be held. These will not only mark Independence Day, but will be an integral part of the state's grand Centennial celebration.

The celebration is scheduled to start on the afternoon of July 3rd and continue to the afternoon of July 6th.

Two nights of pageantry, two days of frontier show, a Chiselers Gulch for concessions, a hardrock drilling contest, timber chopping contest, wild cow milking, horse roping, a beauty-popularity contest, whiskerinos, forty-niner or western garb, a band concert, are but a few of many features planned.

Subcommittee chairmen working with Stinson's Fourth committee are Art Remple, Del Powell, Mrs. Dora Pugh, Richard Loudstetter, Earl Covey and Manuel Cicogni. Art Remple's subcommittee will institute measures for the wearing of either whiskers or forty-niner or Western garb commencing May 1st.

Del Powell heads the committee for organizing a Queen contest. Winner of the local beauty-popularity contest will compete in early summer in the Miss California contest at Santa Cruz. Santa Cruz winner takes part in national contest at Atlantic City, for Miss America crown.

Mrs. Dora Pugh, of the Business and Professional Women's Club, will expedite plans for the ladies to appear in 49'er or western garb.

Richard Lostutter is chairman of the advertising subcommittee; Manuel Cicogni heads the subcommittee in charge of westernizing store fronts with slab wood and rough lumber.

Harry Clayton, Nevada City Lions president, volunteered complete cooperation with the Grass Valley chambers, saying his organization was "one hundred per cent" behind the celebration. Harold George discussed band concert plans for the fourth, and asked for advanced scheduling that the band might plan efficiently.

Stinson suggested that George contact an old-time fiddler to be a feature of one program. Earl Covey remarked that it would be wise to line up old timers who knew the location of horses suitable for the frontier show.

President Daniel L. Hirsch named John Furneux head of the Fire Prevention ommittee. "Confidence", said Hirsch, "is the chamber's key word for the month of April. Confidence is one's associates, the executives of one's group, and above all, confidence in one's self."

Loyle Freeman said that the county fair comittee expected to spend $600,000 on a Watt Park fairground and recreational center in the next five or six years. In the immediate future, he stated, were plans for expenditure of $200,000. This would be used for clearing ground, water and sewage mains, and creating park ways.

The Watt Park development, Freeman said, would be a permanent development for year-round use.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE CANDIDATES MUST DECLARE BY APRIL 16

GRASS VALLEY: County Superintendent of Schools Walter A. Carlson yesterday stated that all who wish to run for school trustees,, throughout the county, must file their declarations of candidacy by April 16. Elections will be held on May 16th..

LIONS JOINT LADIES NIGHT APRIL 10TH

NEVADA CITY: Featue of the Lions Club meeting Wednesday evening at the Deer Creek Inn was a movie short extolling the advantages of a certain brand of beverage.

Dr. Cyril N. Kerrin reported on the progress of his youth recreation committee.

Harry Clayton opened an extended discussion of a proposed zone meeting for which the Nevada City club was to be host. Several proposals were made and the structure of Lions Club levels of authority was discussed.

It was decided at length, to hold a Nevada City-Grass Valley ladies night at Monte Vista. This spot is above Colfax on Highway 40. The date is Thursday, April 10th..

A month following this occasion, Nevada City will be host to a zone meeting. This will include Lions from Grass Valley, Colfax, Truckee and Downieville

PARK COMMISSION AGAIN TO WORK, VEALE CHAIRMAN

NEVADA CITY: The Park Commission has been revived. Last night, the city council named five members on the commission which many years ago died from lack of funds.

Councilman Charles Veale is chairman, W. C. Percy, Lions Club, Ed R. Hewston, Chamber of Commerce, Fred Charles Garrison, VFW, and Marvin Shock, Rotary compose the group.

Ed Hewston, representing the Boy Scouts, was granted permission for the scouts to have the soft drink concession at the Pioneers Park baseball field thos summer. Work and proceeds will be divided among the six troops.

The council okayed Robert V. Tamblyn's insurance policy with premium amounting to $1,001.46. It granted permission to the Nevada County Historical Society to display one of the city's ancient hose carts at the museum for the opening Monday and thereafter. Mrs. Doris Foley had requested this, offering to improve the condition of the cart.

Postman Frank Stewart brought before the council a complaint. He stated that one R. C. Nicholson, had cut him off from only means of access to his (Stewart's) home. The council will investigate a means of granting Stewart access through the Narrow Gauge right of way.

Max Solaro, police chief, reported one Mike Shaw, arrested for drunkeness in public had paid a $20 fine yesterday. Mrs. Wynomah Mason, had departed from town Thursday on a "floater", being charged with the same offense.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO OPEN ON MONDAY, APRIL 7, AFTER PROGRAM

NEVADA CITY: Featured as part of the regular April monthly meeting of the Nevada County Historical Society will be the opening of the museum on Main Street next Monday evening. The general public is cordially invited to attend the general meeting and program scheduled at the Elementary School at 7:30 p. m. and the opening of the museum at 9.

The building has undergone extensive renovations and repairs during recent eeks by members of the society. Work on displays and lighting this week will round out several months preparation for the opening of a relic museum depicting early Nevada County. Jim McClish is engaged in installing modern lighting in the building and has arranged each display case with fleurescent lights.

Doris Foley, president is anxious to get a wider representation of county historical material and urges local residents to contact her about exhibit materials such as old pic-tures, relics of the period 1850-1890.

The Auburn Forty Niner Association has informed Elmer Stevens, chairman of museum committees, that they will send two bus loads of their groups to the opening and likely present a short program in honor of the Nevada County Society at the general program, and attend the opening of the museum.

As the local committee completes work on the museum this week, it issues an urgent plea for exhibit materials. Old lighting fixtures can be used to advantage now for the opening night.

EASTER—1947

Easter is both a gay and solemn time.

The gaiety may be seen as well as felt—in the light-hearted steps of the fashion parade down Main street; in the brimming happiness of the child clutching a life-size bunny of fuzz and fur in chubby hands; in the shrill parkway searching for colored eggs, and in the chic, if startling, color and design of milady's new bonnet.

The solemnity of Easter is a real and pulsating thing. It marches majectically up to the brow of hills where worshippers climb in the dawn to praise the Prince of Peace who laid down His life for an ideal that still eludes His children.

It rings forth in the churches where, in song, and story a pageant 1947 years old is reborn to fill the devout with renewed faith and hope.

Easter then, is a time for both gaiety and sober appraisal. And despite the international pessimism of the moment, it is perhaps not too much to hope that at some Easter sunrise not too far distant, the world may awaken and truly give thanks for having found the path to universal amity and permanent peace.—Contributed..

THE RED MENACE

By ED C. UREN

It appears that a good boost for the advance of Russian communism and the disruption of China was planned at the Yalta conference when Mr. Roosevelt entered in to a secret agreement with Stalin for the loot of Manchuria as a sop for entering the war against Japan—and China was not told anything about it.

As Russia entered the war against the Japs however., we had just about finished it. But this didn't prevent Russia from modestly proclaiming to her people that she alone was the victor. The U. S. didn't even play second fiddle.

She even went so far as to take photographs at such an angle that only the Russians and the Japs at the council table were in the picture. Then this lying scene was fed the Russian people through the news reels as a factual happening of Japan surrendering to Russia..

Manchuria, or Manchukuo as the Japs called it had been seized from China in 1931. It embraces an area larger than California, Nevada, Oregon than Washington put together and had a population of 40 million The soil of Manchuria is equal to the best in the world, besides it contains vast deposits of oil shale, coal gold and timber..

The Japs had built factories, modernized its cities and transportation and placed most of its lands under cultivation, so it was a rich haul indeed for the small part that Russia played in the subjugation of the Nips.

After VJ day, the Russians, following their usual custom, proceeded to strip the country of its factories and everything else of value. It turned over to the Chinese communists puppets, who at once ordered U. S. soldiers out of China, a good portion of the armament and war supplies seized from the Japs with which to fight and harass Chiang Kai-Sheck..

And then we loaned Kai-Sheck's government 400 million and sent such a valued servant as General Marshall to China to work on an impossible coalition of the two factions. That, in simple analysis, is the record of our statesmanship in Asia.

Now we find ourselves in a position where we have to do something desperate to stop the spread of bolshevism, for if China with its 400 millions, Korea with 22 million and another 30 million in the Kalkans are foced under Bolshevik dictatorship we shall eventually be up against something much worse than Hitler conjured up.

At last the much belated red hunt is on and President Truman should be given full support by all good citizens in his effort to aid Greece and Turkey and to clean the vermin our own midst. We have them here infiltrated into government under the New Deal and boring their way into leadership in the trade unions, causing unnecessary strife sometimes bordering on actual revolution, which is their ultimate aim under orders from the Kremlin.

A communist in tht first place, is not a good American citizen. He is an outcast who hates both himself and society;; who thinks the teachings of Marx and Russian communism are alike, and whose chief aim is to be ewarded for his perfidy by being made a bemedaled and well fed commissar, although he is more likely to end up a slave.

To be a good party man he has to be a liar, a rabble rouser, thug and bereft of either principle or honor. He must not hesitate at murder—for the cause.

The idea that communism as practiced in Russia, which Henry Wallace, osme our pink professors, the college squirts and the Hollywood perverts call "social democracy" is so far from the label that it becomes ridiculous to anyone who knows the facts about Russia..

We wish that every American could read Victor Kravchenko's "I Chose Freedom". We wish above all that the disclosures made by this soviet official were made a text in every American school room to the end that the real truth about what goes on behind the iron curtain will become common knowledge..

Here is a true patriot, if there ever was one, for he is hunted like a wild beast and knows full well that he will be killed sooner or later for telling the facts about the deceit, the spying, the cruelty and the constant fear that hover over both bureaucrat and peasant.

In this narrative we are told that the mass of the Russian people outside of the politburo are nothing more than slaves; that there is no such thing as collective bargaining; that unions are state controlled; that strike agitators are put to death and that twenty minutes late to work is punished by starvation. What an inducement for American labor to strive for.

He tells us that in spite of twenty years of peparation, which includes three five year plans, hundreds of thousands of Russians died under Hitler's assaults because Russia had no anti-tank guns and had to fight tanks with bottles of gasoline.

Without American help they probably would have lost the war because we furnished them with 15,000 planes, 7000 tanks and huge amounts of food; altogether twelve billion dollars worth—and then they turn and bite the hand that fed them.

Through all the international gatherings in the cause of peace and agreement we get nothing but bickering, sniping and churlishness from Molotov over every question that arises, while their press constantly attacks us in the most bitter language they can use in order to inoculate hatred against us by their own people.

We have no quarrel with the Russian people and there is no doubt whatever that if they knew the truth instead of the falsehoods that are eternally dinned in their ears there would be nothing but the best of feeling between us."

But communism, or even the pseudo socialism of England's present labor government, which is quite certain to go on the rocks, cannot be made to work unless the overlords can force labor to do its bidding.

Only recently Britain's secretary of labor, who is a communist, wrathfully said "the only way we can carry out our plans is to take their bloody ration cards away from them and say to them, you can either work or starve."

When the real facts of life under communism are known it is hard to conceive how any sensible person can sanction it. One reads of the utter surprise and consternation of Kravchenko's party as they walked up the street in Vancouver, B. C. from their ship that brought them across. To them it was unbelievable, after what they had been told, that they could actually buy any of the food, the dresses and shoes that were in the windows.

They were astounded by the visible evidence that refuted the lying propaganda they had been fed on. Dresses for $14.98 that the Russian women in the party could not buy at home for less than six to eight month's salary. It just couldn't be true. Later on, he confides that Steinbeck's Joad was no worse off than most of the peasants in Russia.

Of Henry Wallace, Kravchenko says "I could hardly believe my eyes when I read that the vice president of a democratic government could be so gullible as to call Stalin's ruthless dictatorship "economic democracy."

Of Wendell Willkie's One World he said he was horrified to see how successful the bureacrats had been in deceiving him. As for Ambassador Davis' Mission to Moscow, he says it is a travesty on Russian anguish. He was so incensed at some of Hollywood's perversions of the Russian peasant that he had clenched his hands until they bled..

For our future safety it is high time the American people know the real background of the Soviet regime so they can ferret out the traitors from our own midst.

Most of us know such Soviet propaganda sheets as the Daily Worker, P. M., The New Republic and others, and there are a number of books in circulation that are written solely for propaganda purposes. One such, that has been rather widely read, is titled Seven Years, 1941 to 1948, written by Swing Anderson is nothing more than deceitful propaganda for a communist front. Anderson starts out by stating he is not a communist—they all say that. His prophesies, according to the book, have always turned out as ordained, but he proves the falsehood of his assertion that he is not a communist by resurrecting the class hatred of the old Andrew Carnegie days, the Joads and other slaves of capitalism and winds up by saying that in 1948 all the world will be living under one communistic state and we will be happy together ever after. Let us hope he fries in his own grease before that day happens if Russia is to be our saviour.

Jesus Lays Down His Life — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—John 18-19: 21:15. By Alfred J. Buescher

After Jesus' prayer for His disciples, "He went forth with His disciples over the brook Kidron, where was a garden into which He entered and His disciples." Judas knew this plabe too.

To this garden Judas brought a band of men and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees with torches and lanterns. Jesus, asked whom they sought, and told them He was Jesus.

Jesus was first brought bound to the high priest who questioned Him and then sent Him to Pilate, who interrogated Him but found no fault with Him, and would have released Him.

The Jews insisted that Jesus should be crucified. So, bearing His own cross, He was led to Golgotha, where He was nailed to the cross.

LOOKING AHEAD

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President--Harding College

Bugs in the Budget

Did you know that income of the federal government for the next fiscal year will be nine times, maybe ten times, what it was in the boom period of 1929? It will be at least seven times the receipts the federal government had in 1939. Weak nation it would be, indeed, that could not balance a peacetime budget with the receipt side of the ledger at enormous peacetime highs.

Just to balance the budget during boom times, however, is not enough. We must retire debt and reduce taxes. Looking at another angle, the federal government wants to spend more than four times as much as it did in any year of the Thirties, when deficit spending was in the habit-forming stage. Has it now become fashionable for our government to spend all it can get? Have we forgotten that the more we spend the more we shall have to tax?

Pet Projects

If we cannot, under favorable conditions of high employment and trade, get hold of ourselves long enough to retire our national debt and cut our taxes, at what future time do we expect to do so? Is our budgeting so out of hand that Congress cannot gain control over it? Or is the public thus unmindful of the trouble we're in for under a tax load required by the spending of $37,500,000,000 annually.

Both the President and the Congress have given evidence of honest desire to keep the expenditure side of the budget down. But the pressures that are applied from every direction call for spending more money. As a people, we shall have to exert great moral fortitude at this time if we expect an about-face in a spending philosophy grown almost traditional. We need not complain to the government for being spendthrift, if at home we insist upon being spendthirsty about our pet projects. Economy begins first at home.

Examine Everything

Although the war has been over nearly two years, your government wishes to spend more in the next fiscal year alone than was spent during the whole of World War I. Of course, this is a dangerous era, and no one wants to hamstring our national defenses. The whole nation wants the occupation program to succeed. But more efficiency and the least possible waste of manpower and money should be the order of the day.

As late as November the War and Navy Departments were still employing more than a million civilians. Spending in every department, military or non-military, should be studied carefully. Everyone knows it is easier to keep on spending government money than to retrench. This is just as true of the national defense. Despite warnings of what may happen, Congress will do well to examine these expenditures.

Trimming down expenses is not an easy task for Congress. Snail's progress will be made unless the people make themselves heard. A big and wasteful budget now, carrying with it a tax penalty upon the enterprise of the people, could do much to start us down hill toward the kind of economy Russia has. Most Americans, I believe, would rather be allowed to spend their own money than have the government spend it for them.

ORANGE COUNTY

Although it is too early to predict conditions in Orange county on opening day of trout season, National Automobile Club reports Santiago Creek has been planted with 375 trout, averaging three to the pound. This is the best stream in the county. Trabuco Creek, second best has been planted with 600 adult trout along with an equal number of fingerlings.

WATCH OTHERS

"You may be an expert with your car in excellent condition, but what about the othrr fellow?" asks Bert Stewart, Public Safety Director of National Automobile Club, "for your own safety, maintain a sufficient distance behind the car ahead, be sure you have ample space before passing and always keep your car in good mechanical condition."

NO REWARD OFFERED

No reward is offered for the identification of this well-known gentleman. Readers who can put a name on this silhouette are invited to report their decision to the Nugget. The following clues are offered:

1. Does not wear quiet neckties.

2. Once laid claim to being oldest Nevada County citizen.

Maybe it's just me, but I can't get over thinking that the state of the retail trade in the nation, the state and right here is very peculiar. Wholesale prices are, in many lines, still going up. The general cost of living is still rising. This factor is especially tricky. When the cost of food keeps rising it absorbs a larger proportion of individual income. The housewife who finds food using more income developes buyer resistance towards all other items. No reflection on food retailers—they're not making any more, just paying and charging more. Anyhow, sooner or later, someone's going to get caught in the middle.

A recent visit to the Jopamavi Saddle and Country Club revealed much painting: An artist upon the hill was painting the panoramic scene. Country Club Proprietor J. Paul "Waiting For Spring" Hughes was applying white paint to some fixtures. Paul's brother, just came out to California, was painting the porch floor brick red. Cedric S. Porter, well known antique dealer, was painting a glowing word picture of a children's party soon to be held on Wyoming Hill.

This week's QUESTION: What smiling lawyer drove a large auto into a slippery field covered with a farm by-product last Saturday night? Said gentleman had same shining auto full of local ladies and experienced much trobble getting the car out. Finally ended up in Boston Ravine, if my spies report right..

Congratulations to Dutch Melton for newest delivery truck in town.

Another slot machine sidelight: It's amazing how much information pro and con on parking meters diffrent individuals pick up. And the remarkable part is that chaps who are FOR the gadgets seem to hear nothing but favorable dope. And the anti's collect volumes of dope against them. Take me, I'm for them. Seems like everybody I run into has something relatively favorable about them. Lots of local men who don't like them continually run into people who say they are through with shopping in Nevada City until the meters go. What's it all add up to?

Operations of U. S. domestic scheduled airlines in 1946 resulted in only 73 deaths among 15,300,000 passengers.

EMOTIONAL DISTURBANCES CAN CAUSE EYE INJURY

SAN FRANCISCO: Prolonged emotional disturbances can cause permanent injury to the eyes in persons with unstable sympathetic nervous systems.

This is reported by Dr. David O. Harrington, assistant clinical professor of opthalmology in the University of California Medical Schools in an article in the Medical Journal of Opthalmology.

Dr. Harrington reported the analysis of a large number of cases of defective vision in young men examined by him while on active duty with the Navy during World War II. Several varieties of ocular diseases were brought about by various emotional disturbances in large numbers of young soldiers and sailors, he said.

The physician said that the young men in whom these psychologically induced ocular diseases were found had inherited a deficient autonomic nervous system which controls certain involuntary muscles in the blood vessel walls and thereby affects blood circulation.

When such individuals are subjected to severe emotional disturbances there is an involuntary, severe contraction of blood vessels in various parts of the body. In the case of the eyes this contraction may cause marked changes in the retina or sensitive nerve layer at the back of the eye. If the disturbance is short lived these retinal changes may disappear,, but if it lasts a long time the damage may be permanent.

SCHEDULE OF EASTER AND GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES

EASTER MESSAGE

From the Rector of Trinity Episcopal Church

On Friday we celtbrate the tragedy of the Crucifixion. It is the world's greatest tragedy. To think that God should be made manifest in the flesh; that men should see Him and not recognize Him; that they should actually put Him to death; there could scarcely be a greater tragedy than this. It is therefore only natural that the Christian should set apart Good Friday as a day of sorrow. No one can read the story of the Cross unmoved.

But let us remember that the first Christians, in proclaiming their message to the world, put in the forefront the fact of the Resurrection. Christ is Risen!

This Easter sermons on the Resurrection will be preached in every church in the land. There is no need for me to attempt a sermon in this message. I want, instead, just to give a message of cheer to many who need it now..

All of us know something of crucifixion. All of us, alas, know something of the good in us meeting with defeat. In all too many cases we hve to confess that we have ourselves crucified the good within us. We have had good plans, intentions, resolves, and we have smothered them or allowed them to lapse, or other people, or the forces around us, have been too strong. They have overcome the good in us. It is a sorrowful story, and if we are frank, we know all of us repeat it. The trouble with most people is that they stop there.

The story of the Cross does not end on Good Friday. Easter Sunday is the sequel.

If we are content to accept or bemoan defeat we shall never realise the meaning of Christianity. The whole history of life is one of defeats set-backs. Every fall sees the passing of the leaves, the death of the flowers. No man is so strong, so successful but must come to the point when strength wanes, success passes, death comes to finish the chapter. Death is the only certain thing about life.

Were that all, there must always be a shadow over life.

But the fact that is at the root of the Christian faith is the Resurrection. Christ rose from the dead..

The Resurrection is the greatest fact in all life. It is the greatest fact in nature; that however hard the ground, however cold the earth, spring will break forth,, and life will force its crazy way out of the tomb.

We are in the midst of troubles and defeats. It sometimes seems that all we have ever fought for is slipping away. Death stares us in the face. We have not had time to forget the misery of World Wars, but the nations of the world seem busy for even greater catastrophe. Mankind seems bent on the crucifixion of Man.

There is every cause for despair; except for the fact that Christ is Risen. Man may do their worst,, but they cannot seal the tomb..

"I believe in the Resurrection and the Life." I believe in the ultimate triumph of good over evil. I believe that God is stronger than all the evil forces that are arayed against Him.

In our individual lives let us believe in the triumph of good. Do not despair. "He has overcome the world." Let us, this Eastertide, take heart because of the fact of the Resurrection. How beautiful it is to see on every hedge and tree, the signs of life returning to the earth. The glories of spring are worth the trials and the sufferings of winter. The annual miracle of the spring ought to bring fresh hope to every tired soul.

Get out into the open and see God at work in nature.. Leave the crowded streets and the noisy highways. Go where the flowers hide their modest heads. Watch the leaves unfolding on the branch of the tree. Look at the birds building their nests, listen to their song.

Christ is Risen! Death was not able to bind Him. There is good in your heart that all the forces of evil cannot quench. Give it a chance There is hope in your heart, so give room to it this Eastertide.

Have faith. Don't doubt. Christ is Risen! Rejoice!

Christian Science Society of Nevada City holds services every Sunday in their church 114 Boulder St. at 11 o'clock. Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. A Wednesday evening testimonial meeting is held on the first Wednesday of each month at eight o'clock. Our reading room is located in the church edifice at 114 Boulder St. and is open Monday, Wednesday and Friday, holidays excepted from 2 to 4 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and visit the reading room.

Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down and cast into the fire, Matt. 7:19. This is the golden text for the Christian Science lesson sermon for Sunday, April 6 on the subject Unreality..

Included in the sermon are these citations:

Colossians: As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him. (2:6) Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy: As for sin and disease. Christian Science says in the language of the Master. Follow me; and let the dead bury their dead. Let discord of evey name and nature be heard no more and let the harmonious and true sense of life and being take possesion of human consciousness. p. 355.

MINIMUM OPERATING COST

To keep the operating costs of your electric water heater at a minimum the insulation should be of a non-flammable material which is thick enough to resist sagging from the top. And there should be a cold water baffle, a metal deflector which prevents mixing of cold with hot water.

CORD CARE

The cord set that connects such appliances as radios, clocks and fans with the home wiring system is quite flexible, but should be given proper care. Don't run the cords under rugs or table legs or tack them to the wall, because it might split the protective insulation. And don't paint the cords. This is bad for rubber, causing it to crack.

For every 100 pounds that a cow weighs, she will eat about 2 pounds of hay a day. A thousand pound cow will eat 20 pounds..

LECTURE ON PASTURE RENOVATION

GRASS VALLEY: William Brooks Nevada County farm agent, and director of the Grass Valley Agricultural Extension office will address the Penn Valley Farm Center tonight in the Indian Springs School. His topic: Renovation. A potluck supper will be served.

LOW OPERATING COST

Figuring the cost of electricity at 4 cents a kilowatt hour the cost of operating a home freezer comes to only a little over a dollar a month. An efficient four cubic foot freezer consumes less than 30 kilowatt hours per month and an eight cubic foot less than 40 kilowatt hours.

Los Angeles county with 127,000 cows, produces more than 400 million quarts of milk annually, the largest production per county in the world..

HARD LIQUOR AVAILABLE IN CAMPTONVILLE

CAMPTONVILLE: For the first time since Henry Volstead closed the doors of the Mayo Saloon at the beginning of prohibition, hard liquor can again be sold in this community.

Thus the old Mayo Saloon now operated as a modern bar known as the Wagon Wheel and operated by A. C. Pierce, is again being used for the purpose for which it was originally built in 1909. Since the closing of the business by prohibition, the building has been used for a variety of purposes, a CCC barrack, ice cream parlor, storeroom, court room, church and for various other purposes.

This is the only business in Camptonville township where hard liquor can be dispensed.

Veterans' News

Applications for conversion of GI term insurance to permanent plans set an all time high during February when 94,000 applications were received, including 7555 from California., Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii the Veterans Administration reported today.

The 94,000 applications during February compared with an average of approximately 50,000 monthly during the past year.

Col. Thomas J. Cross, Branch 12 VA chief, said that the high rate of conversions has been maintained during March. During the first two weeks of March 3299 veterans in California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii submitted conversion applications.

Seven out of eight of the national service life insurance policies in force are on a term basis. Term policies issued before Jan. 1, 1946, do not have to be converted until eight years from date of issue. Term policies issued on or after Jan. 1, 1946, must be converted within five years.

Term policies may be converted to any of six available permanent plans. The most popular permanent plan with veterans is twenty payment life.. 470,000 of these policies are in force, compared with 129,000 thirty payment life, 102,000 ordinary life, 3950 twenty year endowment, 1,980 endowment at age 60 and 740 endowment at agt 65 policies.

Veteran students attending schools or colleges under the G. I Bill and planning to transfer to some other instuttion during the summer are advised by the veterans administration to contact their training officers so that a supplemental certificate can be issued..

Prior approval of the VA is necessary for a change of institution and issuance of a supplemental certificate according to O. W. Price, director of vocational rehabilitation and education for Branch 12 of the veterans administration.

Price said it is especially important for student veterans to see their training officers well in advance of any planned transfer to a school or college in another state. Those students must also request in writing the transfer of their VA files to the region where they intend to go to summer school.

Veteran students planning summer courses at the institutions they are now attending do not need supplemental certificates but must notify their training officers so subsistence allowances will be continued. Subsistence payments for students are set up to stop at the end of the present school year unless VA is notified that education will continue into the summer..

Outstripped Cops

PROVIDING peaceful Roslyn, L. I., with its latest gossip, society divorcee Maud Stevenson, 26, is home again after an escapade which almost landed her in a cell. Scantily clad, she was carried to the police station by Robert H. Henjes, 25, her alleged boy friend, who said she was "wrecking" his yacht. Dashing out of the station, Maud led the police a merry chase, losing her bra, before capture. She was given a suspended sentence. (International)

CAMPTONVILLE MAN WEDS OAKLAND GIRL

CAMPTONVILLE: Myron Pauly, of this place and Madelyn F. Col. of Oakland were married Saturday evening at Carson City, Nevada.

The groom has spent most of his life in this community, the son of Mrs. Grace Pauly and a graduate of the Marysville Union high school. He spent three years in the service, and saw active duty in the air forces in the army in the South Pacific. He has been in charge of the counties roads in this district for the past several years.

The bride is also very well known in this area, having resided here for the past few years and having been employed by the Meek Mercantile Company the year past.

The couple will reside at their home recently acquired on upper Main Street and their many friends extend hearty congratulations.

P. T. A. ORGANIZED AT CAMPTONVILLE

CAMPTONVILLE: Camptonville Parent Teacher Association was organized Friday, March 28 at the Camptonville school. Mrs. J. A. Orzalli, president, 19th District of the California Congress of Parent Teachers, from Yuba City was present to assist in organization.

Regular meetings were scheduled for the second Friday of each month, to be held at 2:15 p. m. at the school house..

Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. James D. Rittenhouse, president; Mrs. Julius Casaano, first vice president; W. C. Williams, second vice president; Mrs. Ed Baker, secretary and treasurer: Mrs. Everett Stoops parliamentarian and historian; Mrs. W. C. Williams, auditor.

The nominating committee for the above officers was Mrs. Mary Jackson, Mrs. Roy Stoddard and Mrs. Ed Baker..

Charter membership will be open until after the next meeting to be held April 11.

Clifford Williams opened the meeting and explained the many benefits a local PTA could bring to the community of Camptonville by a closer parent teacher relationship and in aiding this school to provide greater benefits for the children who attend.

Mrs. Orzalli brought with her as guests Mrs. Jeanette Orzalli and granddaughter Joan Reed of Nevada City and Mrs.. Oren Holmes and daughtir Cheryl of Dublin, Ireland.

EXCHEQUER LAKE

Indications point to a dry year and if so the water in Exchequer Lake, Mariposa county should warm up early so that bass can spawn before the season opens. The last three years have been poor spawn years.

Advertising Pays

John Wanamaker, one of America's most famous and successful business men is credited with this sound advice:

"If there is one enterprise on earth that a quitter should leave alone, it is advertising. Advertising does not jerk; it pulls. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day by day and year by year until it exerts an irresistible power."

Homemaking Today

By Marguerite Fennet
Director of Home Economics, P. G. and E.

Washing woolen blankets is a housecleaning chore which can be made easier if a few simple rules are followed. Generally speaking, it is a mistake to try to get this job done too early in the spring as the warmth of May or June is better for drying wool.

Fill the washing machine with lukewarm water, add mild soap, and run agitator to thoroughly dissolve it. Because wool destroys a certain amount of soap, use about twice as much as for cottons. The right amount of soap will yield about four inches of standing suds.

Gentleness is the watchword for preserving the original fluffiness when washing blankets, as it is for all woolens. Wash one blanket at a time, running washer not more than three minutes. Overwashing tends to "felt" the nap. If bindings need extra cleaning, it's best to brush them with soap before washing. Wringing should be done carefully to prevent stretching and pressing the fiber too tightly. Release the tension on the wringer, fold top edge of blanket to fit wringer, and support it with your hands while feeding it through the wringer.

Water for rinsing should also be lukewarm and two or three rinses are needed to remove all soap. Using a soapy rinse as sometimes recommended may improve the "feel," but it may injure the fiber.

To dry, fold the blanket from binding to binding and hang in the shade, dividing its weight by placing it over two parallel lines to prevent sagging. Hang stripes vertically so that if color should run, it will run down the stripe instead of blurring the edges. When dry, brush gently with a clean soft brush to raise the nap. Press only the bindings with a cool iron, while still slightly damp.

Feather pillows also may be washed satisfactorily in your machine. To provide more space for feathers, rip open one end of each pillow and sew a large piece of muslin loosely over the slit. Or, open one end of the pillow and baste a flour sack over the opening and transfer the feathers to the bag, washing ticking and feathers separately.

Two pillows may be washed in the machine at one time. Use lukewarm water with a 4-inch standing suds and wash in two batches of clean soapy water for five minutes each. If your washer has a spin dryer, water may be extracted safely in the spinner basket. Otherwise, squeeze out the water by hand. Rinse mechanically in the washing machine through two or three lukewarm rinses. Pin the cases by one end to the line with several clothespins. Shake occasionally and pin by opposite ends to speed drying.

The nation's Methodists are trying to visualize a million.

The 16 months emphasis on evangelism of their "Crusade for Christ" has surpassed its goal, having brought into the churches 1,050,889 new members: 567,233 on confession of faith, 483,656 by transfer.

During the same period 894 new churches have been organized and declining church (Sunday) school enrollment trend has been reversed, showing a gain of 458,896.

Highway accidents will kill a hundred thousand Americans in five years which is more than war will do during the same perilod.

There were ancient civilizations in this hemisphere despite the idea that the first gleam of intelligence came over with Columbus.

Parent Problems

Choosing the Right Mate

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

THE very cornerstone of our nation are the husband and wife, father and mother. How this cornerstone has been crumbling! No doubt you read the recent newspaper report issued by the Federal Security Agency, of a 25% rise in divorce in 1945, with a ratio of one divorce to three marriages. I keep wondering what the rate will be when my grandchildren arrive at a marriageable age. They range in age now from one month to seven years.

There are some good books which aim to show youth how to choose a mate wisely and live happily thereafter. The latest and best book of this kind was written by Dr. Clifford R. Adams and Vance O. Parkard—"How To Pick a Mate: the Guide To Happy Marriage" (Dutton, N. Y.).

Researches Available

This fine book makes available in readable form the gist of researches in the field. It presents numerous tried-out tests which any person or married couple may apply with profit.

After reading this splendid book I still wished the authors had driven home more forcefully than they did the simple principle (which they frequently implied) that for success in marriage each person of the couple must keep uppermost the welfare and happiness of the mate, each looking for his own happiness through the genuine happiness of the other, each striving constantly at self-discipline to this end.

In their "After Thoughts" the authors say: "What is important is that your mate should fit into the general pattern of the kind of person you need and should be free from the really serious shortcomings we have mentioned.

Sense of Well-being

"Perhaps the most important thought we can leave with you is that the person you marry should be one who will give you a sense of well-being." So far that is fine, but I wish they had added something like this: "Of course, it is equally important that the person who marries you should be one to whom you will give a sense of well-being." They really did say so in an earlier chapter.

Adams and Packard do set a precious bit of idealism in their concluding classic paragraphs:

"We know a young married couple who have 'everything.' They live in a well-to-do suburb, belong to a country club and are not 'tied down' by children. They go to many parties and on weekend excursions and eat out whenever they feel like it. Yet they go about their rush of activities with the bored futility of a dog chasing his own tail.

A Happy Marriage

"And we know another couple who are the kind some people would feel sorry for. They have four whooping youngsters that virtually pin them to the homestead and make outside social life impossible. They must fight a constant battle with living costs to get ahead financially. During most of their free moments they must work about their house, upholstering furniture, fixing leaking faucets or hanging windows.

"Yet these two mates are immensely happy in marriage. They have a sense of purpose in life—a sense of well-being. They are so glad they are married to each other that they can shrug off the many irritations that beset them as unimportant. Both of them would confide to you that marriage is a wonderful, enriching experience."

Those two paragraphs might well go down through the ages.

WHAT'S WHAT IN GREEK SITUATION

THE ABOVE MAP points out Greek-Turkish areas affected by U. S. documentary disclosures and recent critical developments. Washington is reported to favor retention of Greece's 1939 frontiers (indicated by numeral 1) and to support the Greeks in a claim against Albania (2) for northern Epirus (3)—a matter for the Foreign Ministers Council in Moscow. A free zone in Salonika (4), under Greek sovereignty, is suggested, while "Soviet plans for control and defense" of the Dardanelles (5) are viewed with alarm. Also the U. S. favors cession of the Dodecanese (6) to Greece. Shaded area in northern Greece shows center of present guerrilla operations against the government. (International)

BIG HOPE CHEST BENEFIT FOR ST. MARY'S

GRASS VALLEY: Mount St. Mary's Business School class of 1947 and the Business School alumni are "agog" in preparations for the Tuesday, April 8 benefit card party at the music hall for the benefit of the improvements and repair fund of the academy..

Their preparations have included the sale of a very well filled hope chest at 10:30 o'clock that night in addition to the car plans. The hope chest will be displayed at Bert's dry goods store April 3-5-6 together with the unusually fine linens, gifts and other finery to make any young bride a happy woman.

While card playing will commence at 8 p. m. on April 8, Nevada City people may take the 7 o'clock bus from that city and be deposited at the music hall doors by Joe Spence, bus line operator..

If a sufficient number come down from Nevada City special arrangements may be made for their return.

Card party tickets are selling for 50 cents each and will include the serving of delicious refreshments during the evening.. Special tickets are being sold for the hope chest.

Three excellent door awards will be made in addition to the large number of high score prizes.

MASONS TO ATTEND DE MOLAY RITES

GRASS VALLEY: Madison Lodge F. and A. M., have accepted an invitation to attend the installation of the Grass Valley Chapter of De Molay which will take place Saturday night, April 12th.

The lodge has also been invited to attend the institution of the Travelers Masonic Lodge in Sacramento and installation of officers, which takes place in that city April 18th. It is stated that Governor Earl Warrtn will be present and that Grand Lodge officials will participate in the ceremonies.

Phoenix, Ariz., with year round sunshine and low humidity has a climate unmatched by any part of the world except Egypt's Upper Nile valley.

THURMAN SAYS YUBA PASS WILL GET SNOW PLOW

NEVADA CITY: A message received from Assemblyman Allen G. Thurman in Sacramento stated that Charles H. Purcell, director of the State Department of Public Works, had assigned a rotary snow plow to the Yuba Pass Maintenance Depot at Sierra City, on a permanent basis.

The new equipment is expected to reach Sierra City in a few days. It is expected that Yuba Pass will be opened and remain open each winter. Purcell's action followed a dinner meeting of supervisors from Sierra and other mountain counties in Grass Valley a short time ago, at which the importance of maintaining a clear route throughout Highway 49 was urged..

Gold From California in 1853

AMERICA

By steamer America we have dates from New York to the 11th instant. Two vessels had reached America from California with 3,000,000 of gold dust. Mining was never moe gold dust. Mining was nevevr more proved. The state elections had resulted in a Democrat majority.—ILLUSTRATED LONDON NEWS, London, Oct. 29, 1853.

A BAR OF GOLD

At Marysville, California, a bar of gold has been cast, weighing over 378 ounces worth $7,280.37. Some people feared, when the wealth of California was first developed, that gold would be so plentiful that crowbars would be made of it. That time has not yet arrived. — BALLOU'S PICTORIAL DRAWING ROOM COMPANION, Boston, Mass., Janary, 1866:

THE CALIFORNIA INDIANS

GRATITUDE

GRATITUDE OF A SLAVE—There is at Tift's Exchange Hotel in Mobile, a lump of pure gold, just as it was picked up in California, weighing three pounds and valued at $600. FACTS ON FIRES

During 1940-41, U. S. fire losses exceeded the $400,000,000 damage done by the German incendiary blitz on England during the same period.

Each year the U. S. loses the equivalent of a full strength infantry division through deaths by fire: 10,000 persons killed annually. The non-fatal burn casulties would decimate the equivalent of several more divisions.

The Cocoanut Grove fire in Boston killed 492 pedsons.. This loss of life was greater than that suffered by American troops in the invasion of North Africa.

There are more than 650,000 fires in the U. S. annually.

Fire each year burns over forest lands equal in area to New York.

Eighteen per cent of all home fatalities are caused by burns. And for every fatality many more persons are permanently disabled or scarred.

SUPERVISORS OK HOME WORKER

NEVADA CITY: The Nevada County Board of Supervisors yesterday voted unanimously to provide the cost of maintaining a home demonstration agent, in making up the budget for 1947-1948.

The matter has been pending before the board for more than year. The project was backed by the Nevada County Home Center. The board heard the plea yesterday morning of approximately 30 women representing farm centers in Peardale, Penn Valley, Forest Springs, North San Juan, Nevada City and Grass Valley.

The agent will cost the county about $2000 annually The salary of the agent will be paid jointly from state and federal funds..

The board alloted an extra deputy to the county recorder for two months at a salary of $150 a month, and approved the plans of the Donner Pines Subdivision.

WORD RECEIVED OF JOHN MATTHEWS DEATH

GRASS VALLEY: Word has been received here of the death of John Matthews, tenor singer and member of the Gold Miners Chorus, in an Oakland hospital. He had been making his home in Oakland for several years.

He was a native of Wales and a member of the Emmanuel Episcopal Church. He leaves a brother,, Jenkins Matthews,, and two sisters, Mrs. Cassie Germaine and Mrs. E. M. Hopkins, all of Oakland.

California butter manufacturers report churning of 1,638,000 pounds of butter in November as compared with only 475,000 pounds in the same month of 1945.

PLASTICS' FUTURE BRIGHT

Consumption of all plastics during 1946 will total at least 37 1-2 times the quantity consumed 10 years ago and its total consumption, reach $750,000,000 in the opinion of Vice President James J. Newman of B. F. Goodrich Co. He added that the potential market for vinyl resins in coated fabrics and paper as well as in plastic film and sheeting is about ten times greater than the present usage.
